Paul Kaufman has been an Assistant United States Attorney in Civil Division of the United States Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania since 2007 and a member of the Civil Division's Affirmative Civil Enforcement Strike Force since its inception in 2018. In that capacity, he serves as lead counsel for the government in a wide range of affirmative matters, including prosecuting health care fraud and defense contracting fraud against targets ranging in size from individual professionals to Fortune 500 companies. He has also represented the United States and its employees in defensive tort, constitutional tort, employment and program litigation and has handled a small number of criminal matters, including matters relating to criminal health care fraud.

Prior to joining the United States Attorney's Office in 2007, Mr. Kaufman was an associate at a Philadelphia-based law firm, and clerked for the Honorable Bruce W. Kauffman of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Mr. Kaufman is a graduate of the Yale Law School and a graduate with honors of the University of Chicago.

Mr. Kaufman is a Lecturer in Law at the University of Pennsylvania Law School and an Adjunct Professor at the Temple University Beasley School of Law, where he teaches Health Care Fraud, and he has presented on the False Claims Act at the Penn State Dickinson School of law, for the Pennsylvania Bar Institute, for multiple agency offices of Inspector General, and for other components of the United States Department of Justice.
